Hi Peter,

See my original request below. We are looking for some clarification on the information that was originally sent to the R6 REOC. Specifically, we don't have costs by date. We didn't receive an exact start date to start projecting your costs. Is it from day 1 of the response or as of 9/9 when we received the numbers?

Thanks so much for the help, and I apologize for the confusion.

Thanks for the info, that's helpful. We are adding your numbers into our daily sitrep report as of today. We have a couple of things we need a little clarification on:

What we need to see is what's been charged to the MA so far, along with a daily cost estimate. For the sheet you sent yesterday, we are taking the $362k and dividing it by 15 days for a daily cost of $24,170.08. As far as a "cumulative" cost to date, if this is your 13th day charging to the response(as indicated below), your costs to date would roughly be $314k. Please confirm this.

What is included in the "per hour-loaded rate" for $170?

Also, for cost documentation purposes we will need all the sign in/out and OT certification(actuals worked and certified on the back end) sheets for all days charged to the MA.

Is your office handling the pay cap lifting process for the EOC employees since they are not deployed here? Just want to make sure they are covered.

Thanks!!

Jake

Hi R6

To prepare the estimate we used a steady state due to the fact that today is day 13 of HQ EOC work.

Hi Josh,

I see the price for 15 days at roughly $362k. Is this for 15 days as of today, or from the start date of the response? Can you provide me a date range for these costs? Thanks!!
